BOOK YOUR PERFORMANCE COACH

TROUBLE SHOOTING AND PRODUCTION MONITORING BY REMOTE CONTROL.

After StartUp Service

New systems often experience a so-called performance gap in the first few months after successful commissioning.

To avoid this and to provide support to staff, GAW offers remote-based condition monitoring.

Using remote access, the performance coaches can check the unit at certain times, optimize it further and, if necessary, intervene to provide support.

Troubleshooting

A performance coach is reachable, accesses the system remotely if necessary and takes appropriate measures.

He can also react to changes in process parameters, support the operating personnel and, if necessary, initiate any necessary actions by the operators.
